LEGISLATIVE BRANCH CITY OF BINGHAMTON

William Berg, City Council President
Jeremy Pelletier, City Clerk

My name is Michael Treiman, I am a white male and Binghamton resident of 30 years. I currently reside at 29 William St. in Binghamton with my wife and two children. I have been made aware that there is legislation banning racial profiling and mandating cultural diversity training for BPD. I want to urge City Council to pass this legislation as a standing law in Binghamton. We need to show a commitment to this matter and be a leader in upstate NY. Let it be known that I am aware there is disproportionate treatment of minorities in our community by the police and I have seen it first hand. As a matter of fact, statistically we pull over and search more Black residents than they had been in Ferguson which is alarming to say the least. But, rather than beat the civil rights drum, I want to appeal to your sense of professionalism. I have seen and been the victim of Binghamton's failing economy since I was transplanted here as a child in 1984. We now have a booming economic engine with Binghamton University and one of its strong suits is that it is an extremely culturally diverse institution and attracts students from many states and countries. Should we avoid passing this legislation that holds law enforcement accountable for modernized and culturally competent policing we negligently invite a tragedy like those we've seen across the country in recent months. I should not have to tell you that if we have a police shooting scandal here, we will absolutely jeopardize the integrity of one of the only economic engines we have left in Binghamton. We need real laws to hold those accountable who would act imprudently on behalf of law enforcement in order to secure Binghamton's reputation as a culturally diverse and welcoming City.

Comment: This $350,000 parking lot IS NOT THE SOLUTION!

If parking is the issue (and I don't believe it is) fix the parking ramps.

If homeless people in downtown is the issue, don't just make them "move on" to a different spot, focus on them as fellow human beings, address their needs.

Comment: This plan is a terrible waste of money.

⁴ Name: Andrew Davis

Comment: Very few people seem to think building a parking lot in place of the metro center is a good idea. Why do it? Is this logical in any way? Logistically and economically it's absurd. It has now come out that the true motivation behind this plan may be tied to the presence of homeless and mentally ill individuals bothering downtown businesses. Everyone can agree, I'm sure, that a solution should be sought for this issue, but to initiate a costly infrastructure overhaul in the heart of downtown to deal with the problem under the cloak of addressing a supposed 'parking crisis' is not only incredibly irresponsible it's not really much of a solution at all. Sometimes we try to fix one thing, but end up creating more problems. In particular I'm referring to the ongoing revitalization of Binghamton. I believe another parking garage in downtown would only hurt Binghamton's cultural integrity, something I believe we should be doing all we can to preserve and promote. Please think long term. Together I'm sure we can find a more creative and viable solution.

⁵ Name: Keith Twitchell

Comment: I agree that spending $350,000-500,000 for 10 parking spots is a very poor decision on our city's part. The money could be used for many other projects to better our downtown area. I totally oppose this parking project. 10 parking spots for that amount of money is ridiculous. Please reconsider and make the right decision for the people of Binghamton.

Comment: Downtown Binghamton does not need to rip up Washington Street and put in more parking spaces. There are sufficient spaces downtown. This should remain a space that can be enjoyed by visitors to downtown. Plant some trees and flowers, picnic benches, place for entertainment. You are being very short sighted. If the issue is the "derelicts, homeless and panhandlers" then this is a morally wrong way to address the issue.

⁷ Name: Sherry Eaton

Comment: No to parking. Realize the Blueprint Binghamton Plan. Make it a beautiful common area like Parlor City Commons.

⁸ Name: Betty Tuininga

Comment: I think there has to be a more economically feasible method of both serving the downtown businesses and providing shelter and adequate living space for these needy Binghamton residents. Handling this in a humanitarian manner would certainly look better on everyones political record! Not spending huge amounts of money would please the taxpayers!

⁹ Name: Michele Braco

Comment: Please don't destroy this beautiful public space

¹⁰ Name: pegjohnston

Comment: I am against spending money for 10 parking spaces.

City Clerk Jeremy Pelletier noted that additional communications were received from Kate Patchett, Ann Lahr, and Amanda Maine. These individuals are not city residents and their emails were not read into the record, but will be attached to the permanent minutes.

Comment: As a business owner in Binghamton whom also happens to know several downtown business owners, I can tell you that nobody has ever thought we should spend half a million dollars on a parking lot to acquire ten new spots and possibly push out homeless humans with mental health issues. They aren't going to just disappear. This project is not the solution! As for the space, it would be a wonderful community space where there could be a farmers market, festivals, music performances, a flea market- much like how the Ithaca Commons has been used.

I grew up here, and never before has Binghamton been poised for creating a thriving downtown that integrates community and small business. Blueprint Binghamton has great plans for the space in question. Let's be smart and use this courtyard to make something that benefits the entire city.

Thank you.

Comment: I realize that I am not a resident of Binghamton. I do however do a lot of shopping and dining downtown. This public space used to be beautiful and would be a shame to lose it. I for one would no longer visit downtown should this be approved. Used to work downtown and told my customers this would happen if they elected this Mayor. His only concern is downtown business owners and his own pocket. Guess you get what you pay for.

Comment: $500,000 for ten parking spots is a ripoff and you should be ashamed. How about you give up your salary to pay for it since you want it so bad. You ripped everything out of the court yard last year so I already know this project is going through. You all should be ashamed for ripping the tax payers off.
